

Dear Koko,

Starts in the easy way. First, the verbs. The prepositions. The second page in the square boxes. The ones who see things differently. They're not hard at all. And they have the respect for the status quo. You can quote them, disagree with them, gently remind them. And the only thing you can't do is ignore them. Because they change things. They push the human envelope. And while most may see them as the crazy ones, we are genius. Because the people who are crazy enough to think they can change the world, are the ones who do.

Take care.

John Appleseed